THE ST. CECILIANS.

A Brilliant Concert Under the Auspices of the Carroll Institute.

Bischoff never played better nor have the superb voices of the St. Cecilia quartette sounded to better advantage than at their concert last night under the auspices of the Carroll institute. The selections were excellent and the rendition admirable. Prof. Bischoff opened the concert with an organ solo, selected with his well-known artistic taste and played in his usual splendid style. Mendelssohn's "Hunting Song" was then rendered by the quartette, and, in obedience to an enthusiastic recall, they sang charmingly "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes," Miss Detweiler followed with Tosti's "Good by," and, in obedience to an encore, gave "Kathleen Mavourneen." The quartette then rendered two Scotch songs—"Where is My Highland Laddie Gone" and "Annie Laurie." In the latter especially were the strength and beauty of the different voices admirably revealed. The liquid purity of Miss Ewan's soprano, and the deep, full, vibrant melody of Mrs. Mille's superb contraits were contrasted and blended in exquisite harmony. After these songs Mrs. Powell sang a "Romanza" from Faust with encore, and Prof. Bischoff followed with an organ solo that was greeted with a vociferous recall. In compliance he played a varieted concert last night under the auspices of the organ solo that was greeted with a vociferous recall. In compliance he played a variated medley on Alice Hawthorne's "Mocking Bird" in a manner that exhibited the full capacities of the organ and created a genuine enthusiasm in the audience. Miss Ewan followed him with "Com E Bells," a beautiful specimen of Donnizett's elaborate florature brilliantly executed. "Jackey Horner," an "Ave Maria," and a duet between Mrs. Powell and Miss Ewan closed one of the most enjoyable concerts of the season. organ solo that was greeted with a vociferous

A MOCK BATTLE.

District Democrats Engaged in a Great Fight for Nothing.

The local democratic convention at Willard hall will be called to order promptly at 7:30 o'clock this evening by William Dickson. After the election of permanent officers two delegates to the Chicago presidential convention will be elected. The leading candidates are Messrs. William Dickson, E. D. Wright, Luttrell, Hewitt, and Cloughton. The friends of the two former claim that they will be elected on the first ballot. The friends of the three latter are also quite sanguine of success.

There will be a spirited fight for the chairmanship of the convention between Dr. Haldwin and Mr. Pierce Bell. The latter is said to be in the lead.

Mr. Frank P. Morgan is in the race as a candidate for the secretaryship of the con-vention. He is a supporter of Dickson and Wright, and the strength of those gentlemen will doubtless be thrown on his side of the

The supporters of the different candidates spent much money in carriage hire yesterday and last night. They worked hard and are confident of the success of their tickets.

AID TO THE FALLEN.

A Beautiful Charity of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Yesterday an important sale was made by the Godey family to the Association for Works of Mercy of a large piece of improved Works of Mercy of a large piece of improved property at the corner of Twenty-fourth and K streets, well known as the old Lowery estate. The sum paid was $16,000. T a property fronts 73 feet on the south side of K street, and runs south on Twenty-fourth street to a depth of nearly 75 feet. A large three story, basement, and mansard roof brick dwelling fronts on K street. It contains from sixteen to twenty large roems, with veraudahs extending around the building. The association was incorporated Feb. 6, and the incorporators are Dr. Robert Beyburn. Seymour W. Tullock, Joseph K. McCammon, Francis H. Bates, John Haucock, and Harry C. Whiting. The institution is directly under the care of the twelve Protestand Episcopal churches of the district, and each church is represented on the board of maungers. Among the lady managers are Mrs. Fairfax, president, Mrs. A. B. Hagner, Mrs. Honry, Mrs. Charles F. Hill, Miss Sildell, Mrs. Mary Lockwood, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Douglass Forrest, Mrs. Newton Benedict, Miss. B. Potts, Mrs. E. Snowden Bell, and others. The igstitution is intended as a home for fallen and friendless women, and will be under the charge of two sisters, named the Misses Tolcott, who have lately arrived from England, where they were associated in such work in a sisterhood established for such purposes. A beautiful Episcopal chapel will be fitted up in the interior of the building, and it is proposed to throw around the inmates religious influence and encourage industry in ways most fitted for their strength and taste, The building is suitably adapted for the purpose, and will be formally opened by the first of May. This is an enterprise worthy of public aid, and any contribution extended it would be to further a laudable work. property at the corner of Twenty-fourth and EGG ROLLING.

The Sport Peculiar to Washington Children on Easter Monday.

Easter Monday can be said to be children's day in Washington, although many grown up ones give themselves up to the delights which the occasion brings forth. Yesterday groups ones give themselves up to the delights which the occasion brings forth. Yesterday groups of children of all ages, sizes, and both sexes were seen on the white house grounds. They were all as merry as children could be, full of fun, and carrying in small baskets, or, as in many instances, in their pockets, vari-colored eggs, which ever and anon were rolled down the gentle slopes and often followed by the owner, creating thereby shouts of laughter which found an echo in the breast of the looker-on or passer-by. By noon the crowd grew very large, and the vari-colored dress pattern of the girls, and the commingling of the well-dressed youths, and companions less fortunate in attire, made the scene animated and picturesque. The "big picnic," as it might well ba termed, was conducive of much pleasure to all who were present. Everyone seemed happy, and nothing transpired to mar the innocent gayety of the occasion. In other sections of the city similar scenes were enacted. Everywhere both boys and girls could be seen with Easter eggs—the boys in eager hope to "bust" some "chummy's" egg or "our little darling" rolling hers down some gentle slope. Despite the rawness of the day Easter Monday was well observed in this peculiar fashion.
